Student Success Tips:

- In class use Your Student Assignment Sheet- It tells you what chapters to read, what assignments are required, and when examinations take place. Keep it and refer to it regularly.
- Attend Class Regularly- Each day in class is important because understanding the concepts are essential. If you miss one or more days, it's hard to catch up.
- Use Class Time Wisely- It may sound obvious, but listen carefully, focus on what is going on, and participate in discussions.
- Take Notes and Use Them- Writing down key ideas may help you remember. Review your notes soon after class to help reinforce the new information.
- Ask Questions- Anyone can miss or misunderstand an idea, concept or assignment. If you have questions, don't be afraid to ask your instructor for clarification.
- Outside of Class Study Constantly- You'll be more successful if you keep up with the reading assignments. College courses are designed so that each hour in class requires two hours of outside study (homework) to learn or practice the material. Plan to study daily.
- Keep up with Assignment-We all have a tendency to procrastinate, but putting off working on an assignment will leave you rushed and unable to do your best.
- If you're having Trouble with the Program, Do Something About It- Go to your instructor for help before or after class. Get together with a classmate to do homework. Start a study group.

Do not open or read a profile you are not directly responsible for. Do not discuss patients with anyone but the appropriate staff. Failure to comply would be a HIPAA violation.
